Sean Gentry is the employment law partner at Ad Astra Law Group, LLP.

Ad Astra’s employment practice involves both litigation and advice and counsel on behalf of employers, including court cases in California and Federal courts, arbitrations, class action and PAGA defense, labor commissioner claims, manager training, separation agreement review and negotiation, navigation of workplace disputes, employment documentation, and assistance with other human resources needs. Ad Astra also assists individuals with contract review and negotiations, assistance with workplace disputes, and other advice and counsel. Mr. Gentry specializes in all phases of litigation and in efforts to avoid or resolve disputes before litigation.

Mr. Gentry has been selected by his peers as a Northern California Super Lawyers Rising Star from 2016 to the present, and he is a member of the ProVisors networking group for business service professionals. As part of his practice, Mr. Gentry has provided numerous presentations on employment law developments and workforce management, including annual presentations on legal developments affecting California employers and periodic sexual harassment prevention training.

Mr. Gentry earned his Bachelor of Arts degree in Linguistics from the University of California San Diego and his law degree from the University of California Hastings College of the Law in San Francisco.

While in law school, Mr. Gentry was active with the moot court program and the Center for Negotiation and Dispute Resolution, earning several awards as part of the Negotiation Team Program.

Mr. Gentry has since been active in the community as a volunteer and coach with UC Hastings’ and UC Berkeley’s Negotiation and Mediation Teams and with California “We The People” competition civics programs. He is currently on the board of directors of Californians Advancing Civic Education, which supports the We The People programs and other civic education in California.
